STATUS OF CLAIMS AFTER DECISION BY THE BOARD OF APPEALS

The status of the claims subsequent to the decision by the Board of Appeals mailed April 22, 2005 is as follows:

Claims 1-48 stand affirmed.

Claims 49-61 stand reversed.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

The period for seeking court review of the decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences rendered April 22, 2005 has expired and no further action has been taken by Appellant. The proceedings as to the rejected claims are considered terminated; see 37 CFR 1.197(c).

Claims 1-48 have been canceled.

The application has been passed to issue on allowed claims 49-61.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record neither anticipates nor fairly and reasonably teaches a system for selling groceries to customers, comprising, inter alia, detection apparatus for detecting the arrival including a generally unique identifier of the customer to pickup previously ordered products; and a transfer mechanism responsive to detection of the customer by the detection apparatus for moving the products from the storage area to a loading station at which the customer can pickup the product.

The most remarkable of the references cited are Domain (U.S. Patent No. 5,158,155) and Jenkins (5,186,281).

While the teachings of Domain and Jenkins are combinable together in a manner in which the resulting system would include an employee detecting the arrival including a generally unique identifier of the customer to pickup previously ordered products, the combination does not result in a detection apparatus for detecting the arrival including a generally unique identifier of the customer to pickup previously ordered products. Likewise, the resulting system of the combination of Domain and Jenkins would include a transfer mechanism responsive to detection of the customer by an employee for moving the products from the storage area to a loading station at which the customer can pickup the product, not a transfer mechanism responsive to detection of the customer by the detection apparatus for moving the products from the storage area to a loading station at which the customer can pickup the product.

Art Unit: 3625

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

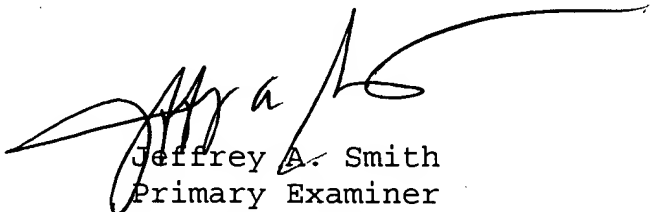

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
